TO THE
KINGS most Excellent Majesty.

Most gratious Soveraign,

UPon Your restauration to Your Throne and People, we doe finde in our selves a certain Joy which is unspeakable both for kind and degree. It riseth, partly from the sight of Justice which hath rendred the right of these Crowns to Your their undoubted hereditary owner, being withall a Person whom we are obliged to honour, as for other respects, so, in gratitude and memory of those Benefits which these Nations have received by the high Vertues and prudent Government of Your Auncestors: And partly from our return to live under the Administration of Monarchicall Government, which as it is the most perfect bond of all Politicall Felicities, so being managed by Your hand, we strongly hope to enjoy them in as large a measure as our hearts, fitted by Gods grace, shall make us capable. For, Sir, the blood which runs in Your veines flowing from the most Vertuous and the greatest Monarchs of Great Brittain and France, and Your natural powers perfected, and refined in the furnace of adversity (as were those of Your Progenitor, King Henry 7th*) and Your eminent deliverances, together with this stupendious Restauration as to the manner of it, being evidences which will make even the Heathen to believe that You are Dear to Almighty GOD, these, we say, are arguments to imbolden our hope, that the difficulties which would obstruct our fruition of the benefits naturall to this form of Government, will be surmounted by the magnanimous strength of Your hand. And though our bodies and Fortunes are due to Your Dominion, yet one thing we have which is our own, and do most humbly offer, that is, our wills, promising to obey and serve you with Heart and good will; seconding this promise with our fervent, sincere Prayers to the Omnipotent whom no creature can resist, that his Protection may day and night cover Your Sacred Person; and that His gratious concurrence may be ever with You in the beginning, and the continuance, and the finishing of all Your works. So they pray and humbly rest, who have with their own hands subscribed themselves*

Your Majesties most humble and most dutifull Subjects of Your County of Hereford
